BLOOD DONATION CAMP
VENUE: SEMINAR HALL.

REPORT

A blood donation occurs when a person voluntarily has blood drawn and used for transfusions and/or made into biopharmaceutical medications by a process called fractionation (separation of whole-blood components). Donation may be of whole blood, or of specific components directly (the latter called apheresis). Blood banks often participate in the collection process as well as the procedures that follow it. Today in the developed world, most blood donors are unpaid volunteers who donate blood for a community supply. In some countries, established supplies are limited and donors usually give blood when family or friends need a transfusion (directed donation). Many donors donate for several reasons, such as a form of charity, general awareness regarding the demand for blood, increased confidence in oneself, helping a personal friend/relative, and social pressure. Despite the many reasons that people donate, not enough potential donors actively donate. However, this is reversed during disasters when blood donations increase, often creating an excess supply that will have to be later discarded. In this event the total no. of students actively participated are 231 members.

BLOOD DONATION CAMP

DATE: 03.02.2019

VENUE: SEMINAR HALL.

A blood donation occurs when a person voluntarily has blood drawn and used for transfusions and/or made into biopharmaceutical medications by a process called fractionation (separation of whole-blood components). Donation may be of whole blood, or of specific components directly (the latter called apheresis). Blood banks often participate in the collection process as well as the procedures that follow it.. In some countries, established supplies are limited and donors usually give blood when family or friends need a transfusion (directed donation). Many donors donate for several reasons, such as a form of charity, general awareness regarding the demand for blood, increased confidence in oneself, helping a personal friend/relative, and social pressure. Despite the many reasons that people donate, not enough potential donors actively donate. In this event the total no. of students actively participated are 206 members.

Donation may be of whole blood, or of specific components directly (the latter called apheresis). Blood banks often participate in the collection process as well as the procedures that follow it. How can blood donation services cope with such fluctuations in demand? One possibility is to try and extract more donations from a given pool of donors. Economic theories of behaviour suggest that one way to achieve this is to provide donors with an incentive to donate. The Blood Donor of today may be recipient of tomorrow. POLIO FREE INDIA CAMPAIGN

VENUE: NSS UNIT ADOPTED VILLAGE, NUNNA.

Report:

Pulse Polio is an immunisation campaign established by the government of India to eliminate poliomyelitis (polio) in India by vaccinating all children under the age of five years against the polio virus. The project fights polio through a large-scale, pulse vaccination programme and monitoring for poliomyelitis cases. Vellore, (Tamil Nadu) was the first Indian town to become 100% polio-free through the pulse strategy, and rest of India adopted the strategy in 1995. Children in some areas of India are weaker and often had diarrheal, which reduced the efficiency of the vaccine. Open defecation, monsoon flooding, and a lack of water treatment made it easier for a child to swallow more polio virus. As a result, children with too few doses of vaccine were not fully protected and sometimes got polio. In this event the total no.of students actively participated are 26 members.

VENUE: ADOPTED VILLAGE & COLLEGE PREMISES.

Report:

Before the advent of poly-bags, people did shop, buy things, bring eatables from the market, and did the same marketing as is done now. How did they do it? The raw material for the bag was decided by its usage. Cloth bags for lighter items, Gunny bags/Jute bags for voluminous and heavier goods. The cost did not justify use and discard attitude. These bags were washable and reusable lasting for six months to a year. The hazards plastics pose are numerous. The land gets littered by plastic bag garbage presenting an ugly and unhygienic scene. The "Throw away culture" results in these bags finding their way in to the city drainage system, the resulting blockage causes inconvenience, difficult in maintaining the drainage with increased cost, creates unhygienic environment resulting in health hazard and spreading of water borne diseases. This littering also reduces rate of rain water percolating, resulting in lowering of already low water levels in our cities. The soil fertility deteriorates as the plastic bags form part of manure remains in the soil for years. In this event the total no. of students actively participated are 120 members.

VENUE: SEMINAR HALL REPORT

The moral root of this nation has shaken once more and this time it is the case of Dr Priyanka Reddy. We now have to answer various questions about this national shame and we would find it difficult to counter many arguments. Keeping these thoughts in mind, let us ask ourselves the big question, Have we failed as a nation? Answering this question would be very difficult. But, let us try. Imagine for a moment (Do not wish for it, just imagine. God help anyone in such a situation) that instead of Dr Reddy suffering this fate, it was a poor girl who did not have any knowledge about her own rights. She is illiterate and lives in a family which holds outdated orthodox ideas. The obvious question that should be asked is Would the monsters have burnt her too like they did with Dr Reddy? The answer would be Why?• you ask. The poor girl could not speak out for herself. She would be a disgrace to her family. And she would have to live with the fact that she was for pleasuring someone, for her entire life. In this event the total no.of students actively participated are 145 members.
